

BULLETIN BOARD

I

If you are interested in contributing articles to upcoming issues of Sagetrieb, please observe the following submission guidelines:

(1) Send a clean copy of your manuscript (no handwriting or pen markings). Underlining (to indicate titles or words to be italicized) should be done in photo-blue pencil. Make sure the print is dark and letter-quality, and please do not send a xeroxed or damaged copy, as this will slow the scanning/type-setting process.

(2) If your article has been saved on an IBM-compatible computer disk (using software such as Microsoft Word, WordStar, WordPerfect, or XYWrite), please also send us a copy of your disk, from which we can work. Avoid formatting as much as possible; we will attach our own style sheet to format the article.

Your cooperation with these guidelines will make the production of Sagetrieb go more quickly and smoothly.

This is an invitation to make inquiry or submit a contribution for Carl Rakosi: Man and Poet, a forthcoming volume in the Man and Poet series published by the National Poetry Foundation of Orono, Maine.

The Man and Poet series is recognized as an important and valuable contribution to twentieth century scholarship. Its volumes on William Carlos Williams, Basil Bunting, Louis Zukofsky, H.D., George Oppen and others, each with its critical essays, biographical sketches and annotated bibliography of critical writing on the subject author, provide scholars and writers with unique, concentrated source material on modern poets and poetry.

Individuals who would like to contribute should write to:

Michael Heller, Editor
P.O. Box 981
Stuyvesant Station
New York, NY 10009
1-212-533-1928

The deadline for submission of all completed work is January 1, 1989. Publication in 1990.

III

There being no great, neglected poet in the Pound-H.D.-Williams tradition born in 1889, we are not having a centennial conference next year. Conrad Aiken was born in that year, but he is a great poet in another tradition. Instead we'll have a conference in honor of the Objectivist Poets, such great ones as Bunting, Oppen, Rakosi, Reznikoff, Zukofsky, etc. Tentative dates are June 9-11. Would you prefer it after the Joyce conference, which next year will be at Philadelphia? Let us know.

Nota bene: The 1990 conference at Orono will be at a similar time in honor of Pound and Yeats. That year will be W. B.'s 125th birthday. Honored guests of this event will be W. B.'s son Michael and his wife Grainne.

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS
